

RUNAWAY GIRLS HIDING IN SHADOW OF HEADQUARTERS

Fled, However, When Landlady Recognized Their Pictures in Evening World.

The three young girls who disappeared from Stamford, Conn., on New Year's Day were traced today as far as the Headquarters Cafe, No. 150 Grand street, through their photographs printed yesterday in The Evening World.

The cafe, which is just across the street from Police Headquarters, is owned by Otto Ahrendt, who lives above it with his wife and daughter Otilie.

On Monday afternoon, Mrs. Ahrendt says, Mrs. Latt, who lives next door, came to her and said her two girls could give room to three young girls who had come from Stamford to New York to look for work. The girls, according to Mrs. Latt, had come to her with a letter from a mutual friend.

Mrs. Ahrendt allowed the girls to have the only room in the house. The girls gave their real names, Mary and Anna. Ellen, fifteen, and fourteen years old, and Katherine Lynch, seven years old, who, according to Mrs. Ahrendt, seemed to be the leader of the three.

They bought food in various stores in the neighborhood and cooked in their rooms. Tuesday and Wednesday morning they bought papers and went out to look for work.

Mrs. Ahrendt laid yesterday afternoon picked up The Evening World and saw the photographs of three girls who were reported missing from their homes in Stamford. She immediately recognized the pictures as those of the girls she was sheltering. She confronted them with the paper, and they denied their identity. She then called Mr. Blenden on the telephone and told him that she had the three girls.

After some argument, Miss Lynch went to the telephone and talked to Mr. Blenden. She wouldn't admit her identity. Mary Bell then spoke to her father and said that Mrs. Ahrendt was mistaken, that she was not his daughter. While she was talking to her father, the telephone was disconnected and the three girls went upstairs to their room, where they packed a few trunks and books that they had brought with them, and left despite the efforts of Mrs. Ahrendt and her daughter to keep them until their father came from Stamford.

CHICAGO HOTEL GUESTS RESCUED FROM FLAMES.

Number Trapped On Upper Floors Carried Down Ladders by the Firemen.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The Transit House at the Union Stock Yards is burning. The flames started while the hotel, which is a gathering place for stockmen from all parts of the country, was crowded with guests.

It is reported that a number of girls in the servant's quarters on the top floor of the burning building were trapped. Firemen who raised ladders rescued some of the women, but others were said to have been driven back by the flames.

With the arrival of the first firemen a general alarm was sounded. The intense cold hampered the firemen as several hydrants were found to be frozen and for a time it was impossible to send streams to the fifth floor, where the sleeping quarters of the employees are situated.

Later it was declared that all those on the upper floors had been rescued. Many of the guests had exciting escapes. A live stock commission merchant and his wife, who were leaning over a balcony, were rescued by a fireman who caught them as they fell.

FAITHFUL OLD HORSE FALLS AND IS PUT TO DEATH

Davy, a white horse, for twenty years a faithful servant of John Korbel and his son, Ernest, in the trucking business together at No. 45 East Tenth street, slipped on the icy street at Sixty-second street and Third avenue today and injured himself so severely that an officer from the S. P. C. A. had to shoot him.

Ernest Korbel was driving Davy when he fell. With the aid of half a dozen bystanders, a stout pole, coils of rope, blankets, straw and ashes, Korbel tried to pry Davy to his feet, but the horse seemed paralyzed in the hindquarters. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was notified and sent a man around. For some reason the first shot did not kill the old horse, and the society had to send around a second time to complete the job.

A number of women were among those who tried to get the animal to his feet. When the horse was shot several women turned away sobbing and Korbel stood with tears streaming down his cheeks.

NO SUGAR TRUST STRIKE.

Havemeyer Refineries Closed for the Annual Overhauling.

Secretary of the American Sugar Refining Company, Joseph R. Freeman, made this statement this afternoon: "Regarding the reports concerning the closing down of the Brooklyn Sugar Refinery, belonging to this company, I would like to say that the plant has been closed for a few days for the regular annual overhauling and will be in operation again next Monday."

COCO GRAFT TRIAL BEGUN.

Peter M. Coco, former city architect of Queens County under Borough President Bernal, was placed on trial today before Judge Foster in General Sessions charged with extortion. The case is being prosecuted by Arthur Train, a deputy Attorney-General and well known as an author. Robert M. Moore is attorney for the defense.

HARBURGER TALKS WITH JUSTICES ABOUT COURTS.

Sheriff Wants to Be Ready if Ordered to Provide New Quarters.

Sheriff Harburger held a conference today with the justices of the Supreme Court, during which the subject of securing suitable quarters in which to hold court was discussed.

The Board of Estimate having failed to act, the judges are preparing to take matters in their own hands.

Sheriff Harburger said he had inquired his counsel, Emanuel Blumenthal, to look up the law on the subject of providing court quarters.

"I want to be prepared when the order comes," said the Sheriff.

MRS. WILLIAM R. DAY DEAD.

Wife of U. S. Supreme Court Justice
Had Been Ill Some Months.

CANTON, O., Jan. 5.—Mrs. Day, wife of Justice of the United States Supreme Court William R. Day, died at the family residence this afternoon. At the bedside at the time of her death were all the members of the Day family.

Mrs. Day had been ill for some months. Mrs. Day, who was sixty-one years old, was taken sick last summer while at Macineau, Mich., and her condition steadily grew worse. Nothing could induce Justice Day to leave Canton. He rarely was away from his home, and the strain has told heavily on him.

Mrs. Day was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schaefer, who were prominent residents of Canton, and all of her life except when in Washington, has been spent in Canton.

You Can Have a Good Complexion

Nine out of every ten cases of bad complexion are due to impurities in the blood. To get a clear skin is a matter of two layers, the outer layer, or epidermis, and the inner or true skin. The two outer layers consist of little scales that shed off the other. Each scale has a little pore, called a pore. These pores are the outlets for impurities, and if they are not kept clear, the skin becomes covered with dirt and pimples.

Look in your mirror and see the little black spots on your nose not reached by soap and water. They were not intended to catch the dirt and dust.

Every woman's toilet table should contain at least two articles. One to keep the pores open and one to protect them when shut. Of course, these are the "Good Fur" and "Post Fur" Creams.

Post Fur Creams not only cleanse and protect the pores, but clear the complexion, remove spots, diminish wrinkles, roughen skin, and by stimulating the skin to its natural healthy action.

Post Fur Creams add drug and deodorant notes. In tubes and jars, 10c, 25c, 50c.
